Your brain's preferences
(not necessarily your behavior)
in focus, decisions, and drive

Focus:

your brain has a slight preference to collect rational data first (vs. emotion).

Decisions:

your brain slightly prefers careful evaluation (vs. risktaking).

Drive:

your brain slightly prefers to push for practical actions (vs. planning for long term).

Brain Style: The Scientist.

The Scientist's Brain prefers a factual, careful, practical approach.† These brains sometimes overlook their own and others emotions, do you? The†Scientist's brain likes to create order, clarity, and the right answer to real-world problems.† Are you giving to your brain all the needed informations? Do you recognize yourself? If not, probably you are not using all your brain's strengths...
